Read and Answer

Ques 1 "I am ashamed of my self."
Who said this and to whom?

Ans The cracked pot said this to the water beaver.

Ques 2 What was the cracked pot ashamed of?

Ans The cracked pot was ashamed of the flaw of not helping the water bearer to get full value for his effort.

Ques 3 What did the water bearer ask the cracked pot to notice?

Ans The water bearer asked the cracked pot to notice the beautiful flowers along the path.

Ques 4 Why were these flowers only one side of the path?

Ans There were flowers only on one side of the path because the water bearer planted the flower seeds only on the cracked pot's side of the path and everyday while walking back from the stream, the cracked pot unknowingly watered them.

Think and answer:

Ques 1 Why did the water bearer feel sorry for the cracked pot?

Ans The water bearer felt sorry for the cracked pot because it was ashamed of its flaw and unaware of its quality.

Ques 2 Why do you think, the cracked pot looked at the bearer and smiled?

Ans The pot looked at the bearer and smiled because the bearer had turned its flaw into an advantage.

Ques 3 What do you learn from this story?

Ans Everyone of us have flaws but we must learn to embrace them and use them and use them to our advantage.
